

Tecnica and Datacore believe strongly in helping companies manage their IT solutions and therefore provide extra special discounts on DataCore software when deployed as a part of an IT infrastructure.

Implementing a Datacore solution can consolidate management of a wide variety of storage and servers purchased ad hoc by different departments or divisions, maximising utilisation, and making resources easier to manage.

Small to Medium Enterprises, Global 2000 data centres and OEM storage subsystems rely on this comprehensive product portfolio to deploy disk servers, to easily add capacity expansion and to centralise and automate storage management for Windows, UNIX, Linux, MacOS and NetWare systems.

BENEFITS

Avoid Risks

Keep storage from becoming a major source of disruptions or a single point of failure.

Boost Productivity

Speed up disk performance while eliminating storage-related downtime.

Contain Costs.

Take advantage of existing drives and lower cost devices in a SAN to significantly reduce capital expenditures.

Defer spending on capacity expansion through SAN-wide thin provisioning and low-impact snapshots.

Protect Investments.

Maintain the same SAN-wide functions across multiple generations of hardware and manufacturers.

Move the software to faster platforms when desired to increase performance, scalability and overall value.
